Children: our first and only priority

IBBY is only as strong as our individual sections. This report demonstrates the extent and quality of the work carried out by IBBY National Sections around the world.

Over the past two years the Executive Committee of IBBY has focused much of its time and attention on ways to help this work grow and expand. It is the EC’s very strongly held view that the better each National Section represents all sectors of the people working for children and books in each country the better and more effective that work will be. This has led the EC to organize the ambitious workshops to be held in conjunction with the IBBY Congress in Copenhagen, which have been generously funded by the Katherine Paterson Family Foundation.

This pre-congress workshop reflects another major priority of the EC and this president – our work with Children in Crisis. With projects up and running in Lebanon and Gaza, and in the planning progress in Colombia and Afghanistan, we are looking towards making contact with sections interested in working with Burmese children in exile, children displaced and terribly damaged in Northern Uganda and children suffering the aftermath of war in places such as Guatemala.

Another major activity has been the further expansion of the IBBY-Yamada workshop programme, that is so essential in helping to further IBBY’s goal of ensuring that all children everywhere have the right to become readers and to encounter their own, as well as other realities in their books.

Our partnership with IFLA has been growing in strength and we hope soon to undertake new projects together. Our new partnership with CODE will help us in our work in Afghanistan and Africa. Meanwhile, we are continuing to work with the Fundacion SM to strengthen the quality of writing in Spanish and Portuguese through the Premio Iberoamericano SM Literaure Infantil y Juvenil.

This year sees the end of our long-term relationship with the Nissan Motor Company, which has supported the Hans Christian Andersen Award generously since 1992. We thank them so much, for without them this Award would not carry the prestige it has today. We are very grateful to Nami Island Inc, which has agreed to sponsor the HCA Awards for the next ten years and possibly beyond. This will be an exciting relationship for us and we look forward to working with Nami Island Inc on ways to strengthen the Award, ensure that it is truly international in its scope and that it becomes better known worldwide.

This year also sees the commencement of a new partnership with the Xunta de Galicia in the establishment of the Centre for Cultural Diversity in Children’s and Young Adult’s Literature. This exciting centre, which will be properly staffed and housed within the National Library of Galicia in Santiago de Compostela – the site of our 2010 Congress, will be a very important addition to the worldwide research on a question dear to IBBY’s heart.
– the importance for children to have literature in their own mother tongue, no matter how minoritarian that mother tongue may be.

The past two years have offered me as IBBY president the opportunity to visit and get to know better many of our sections, for which I am personally very grateful. IBBY sections in France, Spain, Japan, Korea, Russia, Cuba, Brazil, and Argentina have warmly welcomed me, as have colleagues when attending IFLA conferences in South Africa and Canada.

None of IBBY’s work would be possible without the magnificent work of our Central Secretariat, currently staffed by Liz Page and Forest Zhang, and in previous years with Estelle Roth and Karin Schäfer. The fact that our international work is carried out by two members of staff (which in some periods has been a staff of one) never ceases to amaze people. It is worth noting that while IBBY dues seem high to our members, this money goes to pay our staff and office, and only that. Without our generous anonymous donor in Basel we would not even be able to afford two full-time staff. Members of the Executive Committee are responsible for paying their own travel and accommodation costs, which in some cases, is covered by their National Sections, and sometimes not. Occasionally, the EC is lucky enough to be invited, as we were by IBBY Russia for our 2007 meeting who generously paid for the EC’s accommodation and meals. We thank them so much for that.

I feel that it is important for our members to know that dues do not go to paying expenses of the EC. IBBY is certainly one of the most efficient and carefully run organizations of its kind in the world. Our programmes exist due to generous funding from Hideo Yamada, the Katherine Paterson Family Foundation, and another anonymous donor in Switzerland, as well as small contributions from our members around the world. We thank them from the bottom of our hearts.

The lives of children around the world vary dramatically in terms of financial security, access to education, peace, security, social development and today, added to these inequalities the most basic necessity – food. This is unacceptable. It is criminal, especially as it is almost entirely avoidable – there can be no excuse for allowing this. Bringing books to children all over the world maybe a small step, but we continue to believe that it is essential. A child who can read and who loves to read can begin to take some power into his or her own hands, which will in turn lead them to challenge this terrible reality. This is our work.

Children seem to be a very low priority in the calculations of many. For IBBY they are the first and only priority. Thanks to our National Sections who do this work on the ground at great effort and often without much recognition, thanks to the dedication of the Executive Committee and other officers, and to the Secretariat this report demonstrates that.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEETINGS

5.1 Meetings
In 2006-2008, the Executive Committee had five meetings, as follows:
Macau: 24 September 2006 (old and new Executive Committee together)
Bologna: 22-23 April 2007
Moscow: 28-29 September 2007
Bologna: 29-30 March 2008
Planned Copenhagen: 6 September 2008

Information about the deliberations and decisions of the Executive Committee has been passed on to the National Sections in circulars, news releases, newsletters, and via the Internet. Some of the main matters of business are listed below.
5.2 Topic: Secretariat Staff
The central secretariat of IBBY in Basel, Switzerland has two full-time members of staff who are employed to deal with all the daily administration of IBBY’s programmes and projects. Following the resignation of Estelle Roth the subcommittee, chair: Patsy Aldana, with members Urs Breitenstein, Elda Nogueira and Jant van der Weg, started to search for a new member of staff in April 2007. A thorough search was made and Zhang Wanlin (Forest) from China was appointed as Deputy Director of Administration as of 1 September 2007.

5.3 Topic: Communications
The IBBY website, http://www.ibby.org, is kept up-to-date as much as possible with news and events related to IBBY and its membership. The website features two platforms: a public site with access to selected IBBY information and services and a members’ site that is password-protected and specifically serves and informs the IBBY community. The University of Innsbruck, Austria, digitizes all IBBY print archives, which can be accessed, downloaded and printed from the website. The archives contain: IBBY Honour List catalogues from 1980 to 2006; the catalogues related to the Outstanding Books for Young People with Disabilities selections; all Bookbird issues from 1963 to 2006; IBBY Biennial Reports; the Summaries of the IBBY National Sections Biennial Reports; various publications concerning the history of IBBY; the various IBBY Jubilee publications that were published in 2002.

5.4 Topic: IBBY Forum
During the congress in Macau in 2006 the IBBY Open Forum took place. It took the form of an open discussion for IBBY members to speak freely without the formal constrictions of the General Assembly. About thirty sections took part and shared their views and summaries of their activities with colleagues. The Open Forum will become a permanent feature of the biennial IBBY congresses.

5.5 Topic: IBBY Foundation
Established in September 2004, the members of the IBBY Foundation Board are Carmen Diana Dearden (Chair), Christian Stottele, Juan de Isasa, Katherine Paterson, Vincent Frank-Steiner and Urs Breitenstein (ex officio). Chieko Suemori joined the board in September 2006 and Peter Schneck joined in April 2007. Urs Breitenstein was asked to join the board as a full member in September 2008 after his retirement as IBBY Treasurer. Christian Stottele will leave the board at the same time after serving one three-year term.

5.6 Topic: Regional Collaboration
Regional co-operation and twinning among IBBY sections has continued. The biennial regional conferences in the United States and the meetings Nordic sections have continued with success. Some National Sections have established close bilateral links: IBBY Netherlands has supported IBBY Uruguay; IBBY Canada has continued its twinning partnership with IBBY Cuba; USBBY has supported the IBBY sections in South Africa, Palestine, Lebanon and Haiti; and IBBY Ireland and IBBY Zimbabwe have become twinning partners in 2008. These examples of bilateral initiatives have encouraged innovative projects between the partners. National Sections may form regional IBBY committees to encourage joint activities, promote a sense of shared purpose and develop projects that, by responding to local issues, may draw more regional and international sponsors. The Asian Regional Committee initiated a picture book exhibition that was shown during the IBBY Congress in China. The European Regional Committee met in Bologna in 2008.

Topic: Bookbird
During the reporting period eight issues of IBBY’s quarterly journal Bookbird have been published covering a wide range of topics. The special Andersen issue was published in March 2008 ahead of the jury meeting. The issue contained portraits of all the candidates to give better coverage of all nominations. Portraits of the winners and finalists will be published in issue 4/2008.

5.8
Topic: Congresses
The Executive Committee has discussed the organization of IBBY’s Congresses in general as well as specifically and expressed concern at the cost of congresses.

» 11. Congresses

Topic: Partnerships
Executive Committee discussions considered the importance of maintaining or developing contacts with national and international organizations or partner institutions. A new relationship with CODE was established and further co-operation with IFLA has been fruitful.

» 20. Cooperation with other organizations

Topic: IBBY Award Programme
The adjusted fees structure for the Hans Christian Andersen Awards and the IBBY Honour List have allowed National Sections in the lower dues categories to participate. In 2008 candidates were nominated for the HCA awards from category VII for the first time. The participation in the HL from the lower dues categories have also benefited from this decision.

13 IBBY HONOUR LIST

The IBBY Honour List is a biennial selection of outstanding books that honours writers, illustrators and translators from IBBY member countries. Important considerations in selecting the Honour List titles are that the books are representative of the best in children's literature and that the books are suitable for publication throughout the world. IBBY National Sections make the nominations. Each National Section may submit one title for each of the three categories: Writing, Illustration and Translation. In countries where children’s book production is available in more than one language, National Sections may enter up to three titles for writing and translation in different languages.

The IBBY Honour List is one of IBBY’s most successful activities and one of the most effective ways to encourage international understanding through children’s books: it provides a context for discovery and exchange. Its popularity has risen greatly in recent years, and consequently the cost of producing the annotated catalogue has risen accordingly. IBBY is grateful to its sponsors whose support has made it possible to meet these demands.

13.1 IBBY Honour List 2006

The 2006 IBBY Honour List comprised 164 nominations in 45 different languages from 57 countries. Selected for the 2006 list are 67 entries in the category Writing, 54 in the category Illustration, and 43 in the category Translation. Included for the first time are titles from Ecuador, Mongolia, South Korea and Uganda. This reflects the growth of IBBY as well as the revised nomination fee structure that came into operation from 2005. The collection was launched at the 30th IBBY Congress in Macau in September 2006. The books were presented as a PowerPoint presentation. Each nominee and their publishers received a signed diploma. During the presentation diplomas and gifts were distributed to the 14 nominees present and the rest via the National Sections. The Ugandan author nominee Eva Ledi Barongo thanked IBBY on behalf of all the 2006 nominees.

JBBY translated the catalogue into Japanese to accompany the regular travelling exhibition in Japan. Swiss IBBY presented the collection at its annual conference in 2006. Swiss IBBY displayed the selection at their annual seminar in Muten, September 2006. The Russian IBBY Section translated the catalogue and exhibited the collection at the Moscow Book Fair in 2007. The books were exhibited at the Spanish Feria Internacional Libro Infantil y Juvenil Leer León Festival in May, 2007. USBBY presented the collection at the 7th Regional Conference in Tucson, Arizona in November 2007. The Swiss children’s reading club Abraxas exhibited the collection at their 2007 festival in Zug in November 2007.

The seven collections have been distributed to: Zurich (Swiss Institute for Children’s Media), Munich (International Youth Library), Chicago (Center for Teaching through Children’s Books, National Louis University), Bratislava (Bibiana), Evanston, Illinois (Northwestern University Library), Moscow (RBBY) and Tokyo (JBBY).

13.2 IBBY Honour List 2008

The 2008 IBBY Honour List comprises 169 titles in 48 languages from 59 countries. The large number of nominations is divided into 69 entries for writing, 54 for illustration and 46 in the category translation. Included for the first time are nominations from Haiti, Indonesia, Romania and Rwanda. These titles bring the representation of new languages such as Creole, Kinyarwanda, Bahasa Indonesia. Other languages new to the Honour List are Sami from Finland and Kazak from China. Junko Yokota will present the 2008 collection to the membership at its launch at the 31st IBBY Congress in Copenhagen, Denmark on Monday, 8 September. Each nominee and their publishers will receive a diploma, either in person at the congress or through their National Section.

14 IBBY-ASAHI READING PROMOTION AWARD

The IBBY-Asahi Reading Promotion Award, sponsored by the Asahi Shimbun newspaper company, was established in 1986 during the IBBY Congress in Tokyo. Since then, it has been awarded to a group or an institution which, by its outstanding activities is judged to be making a lasting contribution to reading promotion programmes for children and young people. Until 2004, the award was made annually to one winning project. From 2005 the regulations were changed and the Award timetable was altered to honouring two projects every two years and presenting the winners with the award at the biennial IBBY Congress at a festive event.

The current timetable comprises:

- the Award will be presented biennially
- the NS will be invited to nominate every two years
- two winners will be selected every two years
- the Jury will meet during the second EC meeting in uneven years a diploma and a sum of US$10,000 will be presented to two winners at the biennial IBBY Congress.

14.2 IBBY-Asahi Reading Promotion Award 2008

The winners of the 2008 Award are:

- The Reading Promotion Project by Action with Lao Children, proposed by IBBY Japan, and Editions Bakame, Books for Children in Rwanda, proposed by IBBY Switzerland and supported by the IBBY sections in Germany and the Netherlands.

The Lao civil war and revolution in the late 1970's forced a large number of refugees to flee the Indochinese Peninsula. Chanthasone Inthavong, from Lao, but then living in Japan, believed that by just accepting the refugees did not solve the basic problems. Thus, in 1982 she established the Association for Sending Picture Books to Lao Children. At first the organization sent Japanese children's books, picture books and stationary to Lao children. Later in 1990 the association started sending goods to support the publishing of Lao books by Lao authors and artists. The activities that had started in Japan spread further in Lao. Now, 25 years later the Association has become a Non Government Organization with the title Action with Lao Children, which promotes literate education and urges rights of children in Lao. Since then, around 620,000 copies of books for children have been published in the Lao language. The project has united the National Library of Lao and the Ministry of Education, which supports the National Reading Promotion Project: one of their national priorities. To accomplish the goals and objectives of the project many reading activities have been developed.

Following the Rwandan genocide of 1994, Agnes Gyr-Ukunda established Editions Bakame in 1995 as an independent, non-profit publishing house for children and young people. Its aim is to give children books in Kinyarwanda, the national language understood by all Rwandans, in order to help them overcome the horrors of the genocide by means of healthy reading based on their culture. It is the first Rwandan publisher to offer children’s and youth literature in Kinyarwanda. Bakame publishes stories, documentaries and novels for young adults, as well as picture books. At the same time it works towards the revival of traditional oral literature and putting it in written form; the promotion of a reading culture in Rwanda; training of authors and illustrators in workshops and giving them the opportunity to be published. Since 1995, Bakame has published 30 titles with total print run exceeding 450,000 copies.
The other nominated projects were:
SLAV / KwaZulu Natal Support Project, in South Africa proposed by IBBY Australia • Biblionef, in Cape Town, South Africa proposed by IBBY Canada • Bedrich Benes Buchlovan Library: The Night with Andersen, throughout the Czech Republic, proposed by Czech IBBY • Society for All Round Development (SARD): Village Library Project, in New Delhi, India, proposed by IBBY India, supported by IBBY Nepal • Grupo Cerra Largo de Promoción de la Lectura, in Uruguay, proposed by IBBY Netherlands • Tamer Institute for Community Education: National Reading Campaign in Ramallah, Palestine, proposed by IBBY Palestine, supported by IBBY Sweden • Fundación Taller de Letras Jordi Sierra i Fabra, in Medellín, Colombia proposed by IBBY Spain • The Akili Trust Reading Development Project, in Kenya, proposed by IBBY UK • The Lubuto Library Project, in Zambia, proposed by IBBY USA.

15 INTERNATIONAL CHILDREN’S BOOK DAY

On or around Hans Christian Andersen’s birthday – 2 April – International Children’s Book Day (ICBD) is celebrated to inspire a love of reading and to call attention to children’s books. Each year a different National Section has the opportunity to be the international sponsor of ICBD. It decides upon a theme and invites an author to write a message to the children of the world. At the same time, an illustrator is invited to design an accompanying poster. These materials are shared with other IBBY National Sections and used in different ways by them to promote reading. A large number of National Sections translate the poster and message.
The IBBY Documentation Centre of Books for Disabled Young People was established in 1985 at the Norwegian Institute for Special Education at the University of Oslo under the direction of Nina Reidarson. It remained at this location until the summer of 2002 when Heidi Boiesen took over and it moved to the Haug Municipal Resource Centre for Young People with Disabilities in Baerum, just outside Oslo.

The Centre offers information, consultation and documentation services for organizations, research workers, teachers, students, librarians, publishers, authors, illustrators, policy makers and the media who work with young people with special needs. The Centre has built up a large international collection of books not only catering for children and young people, but also for adults with language disabilities and reading difficulties. The books are regularly shown at conferences, book fairs and exhibitions. The 2007 selection Outstanding Books for Young people with Disabilities was first shown during the Bologna Children’s Book fair in 2007. The exhibition was subsequently shown in Spain, Italy, Indonesia and Japan. A new selection is now under preparation and launch is scheduled for the 2009 Bologna Children’s Book Fair.

In 2005 IBBY launched a new campaign to draw attention to the child’s right to become a reader. The campaign has been made possible thanks to the generous donation from the Yamada Apiculture Centre in Japan. The company wishes to support IBBY projects that will help produce and develop a book culture for children in the regions of the world that have special needs or where there is lack of support. Thanks to this support, the IBBY-Yamada Fund has been established within the IBBY Foundation to provide funds for projects that IBBY will identify. The Fund is under the control of IBBY and is not part of the IBBY Foundation programme.

PROJECT PROGRAMME AND WORKSHOPS:

IBBY CHILDREN IN CRISIS PROGRAMME

Following on the success of IBBY’s Tsunami Appeal and the IBBY-Yamada Fund that supports our current project programme, the Executive Committee decided to create a new programme called the IBBY Fund for Children in Crisis.

The purpose of this new fund is to provide support for children whose lives have been disrupted through war, civil disorder or natural disaster. The two main activities that will be supported by the Fund are the therapeutic use of books and storytelling in the form of bibliotherapy, and the creation or replacement of collections of selected books that are appropriate to the situation. The programme will not only provide immediate support and help, but that it will also make a long term impact in the communities, thus supporting IBBY’s goal of giving every child the Right to Become a Reader.

IBBY will select the communities where the projects will be funded. The basic criteria include:

1. the existence of a short or long term situation of crisis in the lives of the children of the community;
2. the availability of a strong, capable IBBY section either in the affected or a neighbouring country and/or the presence of a capable IBBY partner;
3. the strength of the project and its possible short and long term impact in fulfilling IBBY’s goals;
4. the availability of money.

Four projects for the IBBY Children in Crisis programme have begun, and two others are in different stages of development.

» 9. Finances and Fundraising

18.1 Lebanon

Although the start of the project was delayed for about three months because of local administrative problems and the turbulent political situation in the country, the teacher-training sessions went smoothly and the teachers received newly printed manuals along with the work books for children: a total of 2,347 manuals were distributed. In connection with the training sessions, three thousand children attended eight different shows that were performed and each child received a book. The schools were given a set of 50 books each and will receive more when they become available. Despite the many problems faced by Julinda Abu Nasr and her team, the positive reports from teachers and from the school principals on the behaviour of children is very encouraging.

18.2 Gaza, Palestine

Gaza must certainly be one of the worst places in the world to be a child and it deteriorates daily. With the support of IBBY Lebanon in book selection, Jehan Helou and the IBBY section in the Palestinian territories, are building two community children’s libraries, stocking them with selected books that are appropriate to the circumstances of these children, and training two librarians in bibliotherapy. The urgency of this cannot be underestimated since librarianship hardly exists in Gaza. Through sharing reading, storytelling and talking, we hope to bring some measure of relief, understanding and light to these children. The training of librarians and the restocking of the libraries will continue in years to come. Tragically, though this project is now needed more than ever, we have had to move slower than planned as we have to be sure that it can take place safely. The first consignments of books have reached their destinations and slowly the libraries are being set up. But, because of our strong presence in the region and colleagues who believe as deeply as we do, we believe that eventually these children will be helped. This project is entirely funded by Katherine Paterson author of the Bridge to Terebithia: a book that was so effectively used in the Bibliotherapy programmes in Venezuela.

18.3 Peru

Following the disastrous earthquake in south Peru 2007 IBBY Peru has been working to relieve the trauma by using bibliotherapy. The initial goal of the project was to offer safe places for the children to go to. Up to then most of them were out on the streets because there was nowhere else for them to go to. The next phase is to secure these libraries and ensure that there is an efficient organization to run them. In order to accomplish this, frequent evaluations by professionals, such as librarians and teachers, are necessary and will become an important educational and social service.

18.4 Colombia
This is a country where a million and a half children have been displaced by the internal conflict caused by the ongoing war on drugs. We are just beginning to run a project where one thousand street children will be invited to join reading groups. The project will stock mobile libraries, and train some of the older affected children to become reading-club leaders. The children will initially be simply read to, but will be encouraged to borrow books to take to where they live and then return them and share them with the other members. We hope and expect that, through reading, these children will be freed to talk about their feelings, what has happened to them, and thus begin to understand their own circumstances so that they can see a way through the turmoil to forging new lives. At the end of the programme we will conduct a rigorous assessment of its impact that will involve relief workers who are providing housing, clothing etc., to these children on an emergency basis. This involvement will lead to them routinely including books, reading and storytelling in their future relief work and will also encourage them to spread the message of bibliotherapy. This project is being run by the Banco del Libro in Venezuela working with Silvia Castrillon, former director of IBBY Colombia - Fundalectura and current leader of Asolectura in Colombia.

18.5 Future Projects
Afghanistan: IBBY, in cooperation with the Canadian Organization for Development through Education (CODE) and CIDA (the Canadian foreign aid agency) and our national section in Iran, based at the Children’s Book Council, will be holding a meeting in Afghanistan in early 2009 to discuss: how to move forward toward the creation of national publishing and local books in Afghanistan; how to build a network of school libraries and train school librarians in reading promotion; and, how to reinforce and bring children’s materials into public libraries.

Guatemala: This type of activity is also a goal for our new National Section in Guatemala, where thirty years of war and the death of 250,000 mainly indigenous people has left most young people without hope. These people are bearing the brunt of the post-war chaos in Guatemala. Our experiences in Colombia will again help to formulate a Children in Crisis programme in the country, though much of the work will probably take place in indigenous communities rather than in an urban setting.

19 IBBY REGIONAL CO-OPERATION

19.1 Regional meetings: Nordic countries
The annual spring meetings of the five Nordic countries of Denmark, Finland, Iceland, Norway and Sweden took place in Reykjavik, Iceland in 2006 and Visby, Sweden in 2007. The 2008 meeting scheduled in Copenhagen, Denmark was cancelled. Representatives from the Baltic sections of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, as well as from the Documentation Centre in Oslo, were invited. The last issue of the joint annual journal of the Nordic Sections Nordisk Blad was published in 2006, by IBBY Sweden. Due to economical reasons the journal is currently "sleeping". The Nordic NS are discussing whether or not to continue publication or not.
